

about news events awards mentoring resources time's up contact

newsletter join us login

News » Project produced by Former WFTV mentee wins two Awards at Doc/Fest

< back to news

NEWS

15 JUNE 2017

Project produced by Former WFTV mentee wins two Awards at Doc/Fest

The Unrest Team: producer and former WFTV mentee Lindsey Dryden (left) and director Jennifer Brea.

Unrest, a project produced by former WFTV mentee Lindsey Dryden (above left) has picked up two awards at Sheffield Doc/Fest.

The film won the Illuminate Award, which is supported by the Wellcome Trust and celebrates vibrant and innovative filmmaking inspired by scientific understanding. And the accompanying VR project for the film has won the Alternate Realities VR Award at the festival, which is awarded to the best virtual reality project.

Unrest participated in BRITDOC's Good Pitch, and won the Special Jury Award for Editing at the Sundance Film Festival 2017 and the Grand Jury Prize for Best Documentary Feature at

This website uses cookies to help us understand the way visitors use our website. We can't identify you with them and we don't share the data with anyone else. Find out more in our privacy policy.

Accept cookies

Reject cookies

between Shella
Films and Lindsey Dryden’s UK
production company Little By Little Films. It is directed by

Jennifer Brea and produced by Jennifer Brea, Lindsey Dryden, Patricia E. Gillespie and Alysa Nahmias. Director Jennifer was a journalist and academic studying for a PhD at Harvard when, months before her wedding, she became progressively ill, losing the ability to even sit in a wheelchair. When told by doctors it was “all in her head,” her response was to start filming from her bed, gradually collaborating with film crews in the UK and around the globe to shed light on the world inhabited by millions of patients that medicine forgot. Visit the project’s website here.

Share

previous news

next news

In the same category

26 NOVEMBER 2018

Principal Photography Begins on Philippa Lowthorpe’s Misbehaviour

This website uses cookies to help us understand the way visitors use our website. We can't identify you with them and we don't share the data with anyone else. Find out more in our privacy policy.

Accept cookies Reject cookies

22 NOVEMBER 2018

Rungano Nyoni Awarded 2018 Wellcome Screenwriting Fellowship

21 NOVEMBER 2018

WFTV NI Screen Queens Take Centre Stage at Belfast Media Festival

21 NOVEMBER 2018

Barclays Doubles SVOD TV Fund to £200m

see all news

This website uses cookies to help us understand the way visitors use our website. We can't identify you with them and we don't share the data with anyone else. Find out more in our privacy policy.

Accept cookies Reject cookies

Terms and conditions Privacy Policy

Women in Film and Television UK Ltd.
92/93 Great Russell Street, London, WC1B 3PS
+44 (0)20 7287 1400
Website by Bloomsbury Digital

This website uses cookies to help us understand the way visitors use our website. We can't identify you with them and we don't share the data with anyone else. Find out more in our privacy policy.

Accept cookies Reject cookies