

People in the Pictures

Mohr's photographs for the book included individual portraits.

Though many of the pictures depict Dr Eskell with his patients, Jean Mohr also photographed the landscape, local people of all ages at work and play, and several individual portraits.

Brychan Gretton

"I remember Dr Eskell brought two friends of his, I thought they were both from abroad and asked if they could photograph the family.

We loved the Doctor and agreed to help him. A few months later the doctor returned with some prints sent from Switzerland and they are still here in our living room."

Ivy Gunter

"I thought they were there to do with the medical side of it all – it was a surprise to me when I read the book. A good friend of mine didn't realise it was me in the photograph."
